Show Your Understanding

Goal	Demonstrate your understanding by connecting key concepts and explaining their relationships.
Time	40 minutes in total for the map and ORID reflection
AI may help	You may use AI to gather knowledge and information.
Your work	Choose the concepts and links, draw the map, and write the ORID reflection yourself. Do not use AI to generate these submissions.

Make Each Link a Meaningful Statement

> Idea + linking words + idea

[Concept map] — connects → [Related ideas]

Read it as: “A concept map connects related ideas.”

What Your Concept Map Should Show

1. Make the main idea clear and connect the key concepts.
2. Label each link so it reads as a meaningful statement.
3. Check one important relationship. Correct it or explain why you kept it.
4. Add a short note inside the SVG identifying the evidence, its location, and your conclusion.
5. Mark genuine uncertainty or unfinished work, if any.

Reflect on Your Day with ORID

`records/orid.md`

O — Objective: What happened today?

R — Reflective: How did you feel?

I — Interpretive: What did you learn, and what does it mean to you?

D — Decisional: What will you do next?

You may choose not to share personal feelings. There is no word count requirement.

Share Your Understanding, Then Use the Feedback

Day 6	Each person explains one important relationship and the evidence they checked. Give and receive feedback.
After sharing	Use the feedback to improve the group’s Day 10 materials.
Group preparation	Combine slides and rehearse separately from this homework.
