The Homework

One bar chart by Role and one by Grade. Headcount is the vertical axis; each bar shows its headcount and its share of the total. Carry the request through the full P1-P5 flow in the repository you used in class today. Work individually and finish within 50 minutes.

What to Submit

Push the repository you used in class today. It carries your charts, your P1-P5 artifacts, and your ORID reflection.

Commit everything in today's repository and push by 22:00 (Asia/Shanghai).

Your Day 13 ORID Reflection

Use these four prompts in your own words. There is no word count requirement.

O · Objective	What happened today?
R · Reflective	How did you feel? Share only what you choose to share.
I · Interpretive	What did you learn, and what does it mean to you?
D · Decisional	What will you do next?

Bring your reflection to the Day 14 group standup.

Replace Yesterday's ORID at the Same Path

Save your Day 13 reflection in `records/orid.md`, relative to the repository root.

1 · Open	Today’s repository continues yesterday’s homework repository. Open the existing records/orid.md.
2 · Replace	Replace the Day 12 reflection with your own Day 13 reflection. Keep the same file path.
3 · Check and push	Check that the file describes Day 13, then commit and push it with today’s homework.

This file is collected for today’s ORID review. Check that it contains today’s reflection.
