INSPIRE AI

HOMEWORK

Group Discovery Report and Individual ORID

© 2026 Inspire | Confidential

One Group · One discovery.html File

Save `discovery.html` at the root of your assigned Day 14 group homework repository.

Five sections	Elevator Pitch · User Persona · AS-IS Journey · TO-BE Journey · User Story Map / Backlog.
Revise classroom work	Use today's discovery work and showcase feedback. Allow about 40 minutes for both parts, including your ORID and submission.
Submit both parts	Check the HTML in a browser. Each member also submits an ORID file. Commit and push by 22:00 (Asia/Shanghai) on the training day.

No product implementation or environment setup tonight. Review the report on Day 15.

© 2026 Inspire | Confidential

1 · Elevator Pitch

Complete these five statements for your product.

For	[target customer]
Who	[has a problem or opportunity]
The	[product name] is a [category]
That	[provides a key benefit]
Unlike	[competitor or current alternative], we [provide a key difference]

© 2026 Inspire | Confidential

2 · User Persona

NAME / ROLE	Who is this person, and what is their role?
BACKGROUND / CONTEXT	What background and situation affect how they use the product?
GOALS / NEEDS	What do they want to achieve, and what do they need?
PAINS / FRUSTRATIONS	What problems, obstacles, or frustrations do they face?
MOTIVATIONS	What drives their actions and choices?

Mark information that has not been validated as an assumption.

© 2026 Inspire | Confidential

3 · User Journey Map — AS-IS

Describe the current experience at each phase.

PHASES	The main stages of the current journey.
ACTIONS	What the user does at each phase.
TOUCHPOINTS	The people, channels, systems, or tools the user interacts with.
EMOTION	How the user feels throughout the journey.
PAINS	The problems and obstacles at each phase.
GAINS	The value and positive experiences the current journey provides.

© 2026 Inspire | Confidential

4 · User Journey Map — TO-BE

Describe the proposed experience at each phase.

PHASES	The main stages of the proposed journey.
ACTIONS	What the user would do with the new solution.
TOUCHPOINTS	The people, channels, systems, or tools the user would interact with.
EMOTION	How the user is expected to feel.
PAINS	Problems that would remain or could be introduced.
GAINS	The expected value and improvements.

Expected outcomes are not validated results.

© 2026 Inspire | Confidential

5 · User Story Map / Backlog

Organize the work from today’s story map.

ACTIVITIES	The main activities users carry out to achieve their goal.
TASKS	The specific user tasks within each activity.
STORIES	The user stories that support those tasks.

Keep this section in the same discovery.html file. Continue refining user stories on Day 15.

© 2026 Inspire | Confidential

Each Member · Submit Your Day 14 ORID

Save `records/orid/<github-username>.md` in the same group homework repository.

O · Objective	What happened today?
R · Reflective	How did you feel? Share only what you choose to share.
I · Interpretive	What did you learn, and what does it mean to you?
D · Decisional	What will you do next?

Replace <github-username> with your GitHub username, e.g. records/orid/alex.md. Write it yourself; no word count. Commit and push with discovery.html. Bring your reflection to the Day 15 standup.

© 2026 Inspire | Confidential